

Election Brings Many Surprises

FERGUSON AND BILITZKE LEAD LOCAL FIELDS

Couzens Wins In County But Is Swamped In State

Tuesday's primary election is now a matter of history and today there is much rejoicing by some and the sadness of defeat that is sure to come to those who have to face it.

William Ferguson, for county treasurer led in votes for county office and Bilitzke for the office of circuit judge, with Miles Callaghan for State senator a close third.

Couzens for U. S. senator carried Crawford county with a majority of 30 over Former Governor Brucker; however the latter carried the election in the state by a huge majority. The first Couzens health unit established in Michigan was in Grayling and operated here for several years. This, no doubt, was the cause for Senator Couzens' slight majority vote in the election Tuesday.

The campaign for county clerk between Austin J. Scott and Alvin LaChappelle attracted a lot of interest. The latter carried his home city where he was born and has always resided by a majority of 27. Outlying townships, however, went strong for Scott who won with a majority in the county of 60 votes.

Voters of the city of Grayling and of Grayling township found their voting place quite changed from former years. Both the City and Township election boards operated in what was formerly the Township hall but now the City hall. One board occupied one side of the front room and the other the opposite side, and between the two, this was a pretty busy place during most of the day.

In the City of Grayling there were 284 Republican votes and 140 Democratic votes. The counting and tallying of the votes for Grayling City kept the board on the job until after 2:00 a. m. before they were able to call the job finished. City Manager George Granger acted as chairman of the board and was assisted as inspectors by Hans Petersen and O. P. Schumann, and Wilfred Laurant and Carl Jensen as clerks.

Charles Jackson ran on slips on the Democratic ticket for nomination for sheriff and had a vote of 19 in the city and total of 29 in the county, and according to Prosecuting Attorney Neilist, his name may be printed on the Democratic ballot for the November election.

There seemed to be some dissatisfaction on the part of some voters because they were unable to vote for candidates for both the republican and democratic tickets.

Frank Murphy, candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket, led in the vote-getting in this county by a vote of 44 to 26 over George Welsh, and had a large majority in the state. Prentiss M. Brown lead the democratic field for U. S. Senator with a vote of 30. His next nearest rival, in a field of four candidates, was Ralph W. Liddy who had a vote of 11 in the county.

Now that the candidates have been nominated, the campaign for election may be expected to begin at once for the election to be held November 3rd.

Alvin LaChappelle was prompt to congratulate his victor Austin J. Scott on his success and assured that this primary battle they had just been thru would in no way impair their friendship and wished him success in the November election.

YOUNG MEN SENTENCED IN FREDERIC MISHAP

Lewis Shortt, of Frederic, driver of the car from which Miss Marie Horton, Frederic High school senior, met her death Friday near Waters, was given a sentence of 60 days in the Otsego county jail; the charge being driving while intoxicated. His companion, James Marriott, of Vanderbilt, who was a passenger of the car, was given a 30-day sentence.

Sentence was given at a hearing in Justice court, at Gaylord, Saturday, Sept. 12. It is reported that evidence shows that Miss Horton probably was leaning against the door of the automobile and was thrown to the pavement when the door unexpectedly flew open. The automobile was not going very fast at the time of the tragedy.

Old Timers Hold Annual Picnic

Weather conditions were no doubt responsible for the fine turnout of the Old Timers of Crawford county at Beaver Creek town hall on September 6th. Over five hundred people were present to take part in the activities. There are always many out-of-town visitors and each year these former Crawford residents, some of them of over fifty years standing, drop business relations and hurry to our community, joining old friends here, to take part in the annual celebration. And, thus, each year they are given this opportunity of discussing old times and bringing back treasured memories of those first days.

Mrs. Carrie Feldhauser, oldest old-timer to take part in this year's gathering, gave a most interesting account of their first trip to this country as settlers. That was "way back in 1880 and homesteaders took stock of the hardships and struggles yet to be met with and calmly went ahead with their building, land clearing, and grading; molding a country which now rates among the best of northern communities.

Mrs. Feldhauser is over eighty years of age and has the pep and stamina of the middle ages. When she tells of "those days" her eyes light up with enthusiasm and you really see the things she talks about. She recalls their first journey into Grayling as settlers with three families sharing the one wagon, together with household goods, one or two crates of chickens, etc. The party was made up of Mr. and Mrs. Feldhauser and sons, Henry and Will, and Mrs. Feldhauser's brother, the late Rudolph Kerns; Hugo Schriber and two children, Hugo Jr., and Pauline, now Mrs. Rufus Edmonds Sr.; and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Aebl and daughter Mollie. The latter will be remembered as Mrs. John Niederer, who passed away several years ago. The families were among the first group to settle on the AuSable river.

Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: Axel Christenson, Flint, president; Alton Brutt, Frederic, vice president; George Annis, Beaver Creek, secretary; Chris King, re-elected treasurer.

Past president David Visnaw, whose home is in Flint, thanked the committee for assisting in the present program.

In the course of the afternoon's activities, the Jackpines dealer the Hardwoods in a fast and furious soft ball combat; rousting which the Hardwoods routed their forces and defeated the Jackpines in a tug-o-war contest. Various other contests kept the ball rolling throughout the afternoon, with winners as follows:

Boys' race, under 12 years
1st—Robert LaChappelle.
2nd—Duane Wainwright.

Girl's race, under 12 years
1st—Mabel Hanna.
2nd—Donna Mae Millikin.

Boys' race, 12 to 16 years
1st—Don Corwin.
2nd—Russell Annis.

Girl's race, 12 to 16 years
1st—Donna Lee LaMotte.
2nd—Virginia Hanna.

Women's race.
1st—Millie Nash.
2nd—Evon SanCartier.

Another contest which proved to be most amusing was the slipper kicking contest, with Mrs. Robert King as winner and Mrs. Frank Serven capturing the second prize. The husband-calling contest was won by Mrs. Ellen Failing, with Cecile Hatch, of Leslie, a close second.

Plaques are to be awarded to the oldest settlers of Crawford county as follows: Mrs. Carrie Feldhauser, 56 years; Edgar Wilkinson, 55 years; Isley D. Sewell, Flint, 55 years; Mr. and Mrs. Hans Christenson, Flint, 54 years; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peck, 54 years; Mr. and Mrs. George Annis, 54 years; Otis Hanna, Traverse City, 51 years; Ralph Hanna, Traverse City, 50 years; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barber, Roscommon, 50 years; Mrs. John Love, 48 years, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Love, 48 years.

Picnic lunches were enjoyed during the day and the Foki-Dot orchestra furnished the music for the old time dance, held during the evening in the hall. Music was also supplied by George Annis, of Beaver Creek.

And so this year's Old Timers' celebration will always be remembered as one of the most successful and most enjoyable; so much so that participants are already looking forward to next year's reunion of Crawford County's Old Timers.

L. Schram Opens Modern Service Sta.

OPENS FOR SERVICE THIS WEEK

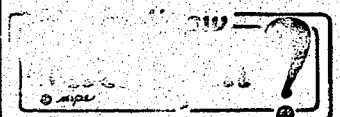

For several weeks workmen have been busy building a new modern car service station for Holger (Dad) Hanson on the lot corner of Cedar and Ogema streets for use of Leo Schram as a Sinclair Service Station. This week sees the culmination of one of the finest and most artistic stations anywhere in the north.

The structure is of brick heavily coated with white enamel embellished by green tiling, both half-round and flat. The interior of the station is light in color and has built-in wall and window-casings for display of merchandise. The service room is equipped with a modern hydraulic hoist and a battery of grease guns designed for every possible use. Ladies' and men's rest rooms are in white tile with mottled tile floors. Large overhead doors make easy entrance for cars.

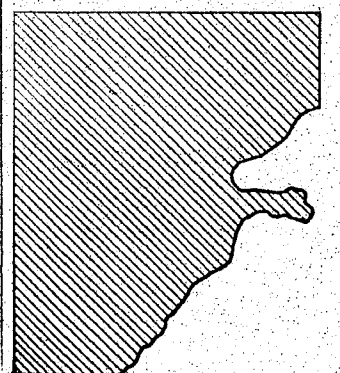

Naturally the station provides every Sinclair product the car owner might desire and conveniences only afforded by the highest type of service stations. Three modern gas pumps in front of the station are easily accessible for cars.

The station is owned by Holger Hanson and has been leased to the Sinclair Co. for a term of years. Mr. Schram owns the stock and will be the manager-owner. The place would be a credit to any city regardless of its size.

Mr. Schram was born in Grayling and has spent his life-time here. He is ambitious and honest and well liked by everyone who knows him and have had dealings with him. No doubt he will receive his share of the local automobile service business. Both he and Mr. Hanson are to be congratulated on this new establishment.

Fall From Car Kills Frederic Girl

Funeral services were held, Tuesday afternoon, for Miss Marie Horton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Horton, of Frederic, who was instantly killed, Friday evening, in a fall from a car driven by Lewis Shortt, of that village. It has been reported that, as the result of a hearing at Justice Court, it is now believed that Miss Horton's death was accidental, instead of a case of suicide as was first reported. The young woman had a habit of leaning against the car door, which was probably the case in this instance.

Services were held from the home, Tuesday afternoon, followed by services at the Frederic church. Rev. Edgar Flory officiated and interment was in the Frederic cemetery. Eight young men from the Senior and Junior classes acted as pallbearers, with eight young high school girls as honorary pallbearers.

The deceased was born April 20, 1919, at Frederic, and that had always been her home. She was a member of Frederic High School in the Senior class.

Miss Horton leaves a host of friends to grieve her untimely and tragic demise.

Surviving, besides the parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Horton, are three sisters and two brothers; Mrs. Cleo Benjamin, and Mrs. Erna McCallan, of Walled Lake, Mich.; James of Pontiac, and Mrs. Katherine Hammer and George Horton, of Frederic.

The Avalanche extends sympathy to the bereaved family in their great sorrow.

Bill has been employed as golf pro for the Golf Club this summer and has not only made a very efficient and dependable man for the position but has made many friends for the club as well as for himself, who will welcome his return another year.

Since the rains and return of sunshine the course is in "apple pie" order and golfers and some, and foursomes may be seen going around the course at any time.

The green on number one is being remodeled but outside of that the course was never better.

What S. Cobb Thinks about

Honoring Amos 'n' Andy

SANTA MONICA, CALIF.
—Because Amos 'n' Andy paid a mythical visit to this community, the grateful populace will dedicate a bronze tablet in Palisades park, which is not only a beautiful park but is regarded by some enthusiastic citizens as being practically the main entrance to the Pacific ocean.

That's California pride for you—
the kind that inspires us to pass resolutions endorsing the sunsets.

Well, I don't believe there's a small city in this country
that has finer sunsets than Santa Monica. And when better ones are available for towns
of this size, Santa Monica will have them. Our boosters' clubs will attend to that.

What I'm getting at, though, is that any fellows who've given as much joy to the world as Amos 'n' Andy deserve a whole set of plaques. If they don't wear out, thanking up their stuff until I get tired of hearing it, they'll go on forever.

"Hello, Kingfish."

Vocal Contortionists.

WHY must tenors make such funny faces when they sing?
And why must a lady vocalist clutch both hands to her tum-tum when she reaches after a high note, as though she'd just felt the first pangs of cholera morbus? And why must there ever be any professional pianist who also is a professional dandruff fancier and looks as though he should be gone over with one of these sand-blasting machines that they use to clean off office buildings. Just ordinary soap and water wouldn't do.

And, oh, why does a basso insist on singing at great length of the joys of life at the bottom of a coal mine and, for an encore, rolock me in the cra-hadle of the de-eep until I'm as seasick as a cow?
Hasn't anybody since Rutherford B.
Hayes was President, thought up a new song for basses? And isn't anybody going to do so before the sands of the desert grow cold? It looks like years and years to wait.

France's Diplomatic Game.

WHILE France was asking us to enter into a "neutrality pact"
as regards Spain, it would appear she even then was extending very material "sympathies" to the loyalist side. Anyhow, Italy thinks so, and Germany, too. And now Portugal sprouts unrest and Great Britain issues threats.

Since we already were neutral—and, if we have any sense, will keep on being as neutral as a stop-and-go signal—America didn't need to enter any pacts. And if we continue minding our own business we'll have neither a sick headache nor a fresh batch of uncollectible foreign loans when the present mess is over.

The point is that France seemingly has been caught playing a double diplomatic game.

Wholesale Mercy.

WHO killed Cock Robin? Who cares? Dead, isn't he? His widow and orphans can go on relief, can't they? But how about pretty Boy Sparrow? There's the one to think about—so young and so gifted and ambitious.

The Women's Aid Society for the Freeing of Criminals—How soon can we get that poor lad out into the sunshine once more? He takes aim so much better in the sunshine. Must we wait until he breaks out?

The state parole board—Not at all, ladies, not at all. Just be patient a little while, then leave it to us.

Gov. Mushy J. Sapp—But why wait? When I think of that bleak Alcatraz and that hard-hearted Uncle Sam I'm proud to have some wholesome sentiment in my soul.
Pass me that pardon blank.

Pretty Boy Sparrow—Well, happy days are here again. Say, I never did like that canary much either.
Where's my tommy gun?

The Wisdom of Frogs.

A LADY naturalist at the Smithsonian in Washington has been experimenting and she says that frogs not only listen to political speeches on the radio but, by their croaks at the finish, indicate a deep appreciation of same. This helps to confirm an opinion I've had all along, that the only end of a frog which should command my entire approval is the end the legs grow on—especially when fried in cracker crumbs.

On second thought, though, maybe the frog has more brains than I'm giving him credit for. When you applaud at the end of a broadcast there's no chance for an encore.

ON EDUCATING PARENTS

EDUCATORS at a "Child Helping Conference" recently voiced a plea for parental education as a means of helping backward children.

Huge figures were cited as the cost in one state of retreating pupils who failed of promotion in school because of conditions arising through parents' ignorance and carelessness. And it was suggested that a small fraction of the amount allotted to training parents in the proper viewpoint toward their children would be a solution to the whole problem.

"With the passing of czars and kai-sers has passed the tyranny of autocratic parental government," one educator said. "Today we train the child through obedience, and not for obedience."

One is impelled to the thought that a few enlightened parents do that. Many are still trying to maintain the home as an unlimited modarchy—and when the forces of modern life lead to revolt, they call upon God to witness their martyrdom. When there is no revolt they are unconscious of the evil they have done.

And trying to force the lives of their children into the courses they themselves wish them to take is not the only known parental crime.
Lack of appreciation of childhood as a period of life important in itself, not merely as a means to an end which they regard as worthwhile, is one. Another is failure to respect the child as an individual. Perhaps the greatest is lack of effort to understand, to the very limits of their mental capacity, what the individual child has to contend with—from within and without—and striving to the utmost of their ability to provide the opportunity for his fullest expression as an individual. "I got along that way and I guess he'll manage" is the most obvious label to that crime.

If educating parents is necessary to help backward children, it is no less important to give bright children "a break." The more gifted,
a child is, the more he is in need of wise guidance. The most tragic waste is that of fine energies on the wrong track for the lack of this guidance because of the ignorance or, what is worse, the indifference of parents.

THE LANSING LOOKING-GLASS

Robert Perkins

What's Fitzgerald Success Secret? — Farmer's Artillery —
The Murphy Tammany Scare — Heat Hits Highways

LANSING, Sept. 10. — MPS — Roger Babson, the facts-and-figures man, classes this city as one of the twelve most prosperous in the country, and yet the housing and hotel problem here continues acute. Rents are sky-high, or almost; state employees dig up an unreasonable part of their salaries for room or apartment rent, and if you want to buy a house you'll spend a long time paying for it. Bill Otto, of this city's Chamber of Commerce, says that several new industries have their eyes on Lansing but are steering clear because of the housing problem. And, what with the old Hotel Downey among the missing, it's going to be tough on the legislators when they report for work the first of the year. A real estate promoter, with a bit of backing and a knack for getting things done, could make a killing here.

FEW MEN COULD have taken over the Governor's chair of the State of Michigan at the time Frank Fitzgerald did, what with everything going haywire, and accomplished as much as he has. A group of political wisacras were discussing it in the lobby of the Olds hotel here the other evening. "You know," said one chap, "it's nothing short of remarkable the way Fitz has whipped things into shape. The old state is running on an even keel again, and it didn't cost us a darn thing to get her there. Y'gotta give Fitzgerald credit — the boy is there with the goods!"

At this point I entered the conversation. "Yes," I agreed, "but tell me, if you can, just what his knack is. We've been trying to get things straightened out for a long time in Michigan, and then this fellow Fitzgerald comes along and everything is pretty rosy. It's beyond me!"

"Well," parried another of the lobby crowd, "did it ever occur to you fellows that Fitzgerald has been an employee of the State of Michigan for over 25 years?" And that struck me like a pretty good answer. The Governor certainly has served his apprenticeship in state government. As one fellow remarked, "Fitz knows all the answers, he's been here a long time."

We all agreed, as we adjourned for coffee, that Michigan was fortunate in her Governor — a man should be pretty wise in state affairs, after having been in the very heart of them for a quarter century.

FEAR NOT, Mr. Motorist, if while driving through Michigan's agricultural regions next year you hear what sounds like an approaching artillery barrage. In all probability it will be nothing but the intermittent shots of the state's new "noise gun," recently perfected at Michigan State College here. The gun is MSC's contribution to Michigan fruit farmers, an automatic affair designed to scare birds away from the fruit trees. It is a contraption which generates gas and pops off as often as the gas chamber is filled. Costing but little to manufacture, the device promises to be popular with orchard owners.

A BUGABOO that gains increasing attention here is the fear among those from up-state that, with the support of the national administration, Frank Murphy may win the gubernatorial nomination. The up-staters, who are quite gaga about the matter, hold that should Murphy defeat Fitzgerald Michigan would be in for a Tammany regime of considerable proportions, just as up-state New York capitulated to Tammany Hall eventually.

Even Murphy's friends, or some of them at least, are agin' him on that one score. Of course, the other Murphyites, who are in the majority, figure that it might be fun to be members of the "Tammany Council" in Detroit, with Murphy playing Grand Sachem, or whatever-you-call-it. But, in the eyes of the wise, Murphy offers no real threat—Tammany-like or otherwise—for outside of Wayne county he has seldom been seen, and as one newspaper puts it, "he is largely a tradition up-state."

NOT SO LONG AGO the State Highway Department released some surprising figures on the cost of snow removal during Michigan's worst winter. And now, with winter just around the corner again, come figures on what was unmistakably one of the state's warmest summers. The excessive heat damaged Michigan's highways to the extent of about $15,000. There were 446 "blow outs" in the pavements of state trunkline highways. Breaks were caused by the unusual expansion of pavement blocks, due to the heat. Counties in which the greatest damage occurred included Calhoun, with 50 "blow-outs," Shiawassee with 22, Muskegon, with 20, and Kalamazoo, with 19.

ONE OF THE newspaper boys noticed a yarn the other day about a WPA boss being fired because he used unsuitable language in speaking to a gang of his men. The newsman came back with the crack that "the wise foreman will, hereafter, call a spade a crutch."

Chips

By Jack Redhead

We have forgotten to ask our genial Commander-in-Chief what a so-called columnist is supposed to write about when there's nothing to write; assuming of course that he knows all the answers.

This part of the country is so quiet that one can hear his hair grow since the departure of the summer people. However, let's see what we can find.

Mrs. Chas. (Chuck) Fleming, who has been hiding from the hay fever "bugs" at Dora Kneff's for the past week, has packed up and gone to the Joe Doremire's to finish out her season of sneezing.

We regret to report that at this writing, Polly Mikesell is under the weather (and the sheets) with a bad cold, (did anyone ever have a good one?). We understand that Polly's cold was contracted, or at least aggravated by exposure, so if any of you people have an urge to commune with Nature, put on your galoshes and carry an umbrella.

Walter Mikesell reports that the first session of the Five Hundred Club took place at their home last Saturday night, with the honors going to the men. Attaboy, fellas, keep 'em on the run, and collect your bets.

Mike also gave us the fundamentals of a good yarn, but the big piker wouldn't grant permission to publish it.

Major and Sally Hawxhurst are good consistent customers; they come up to their camp at all times of year, whether the fishing season is open or not, and always have a wonderful time. They blew in last Friday night—and how they blew—fact is if they don't stop blowing those trumpet horns on their old boilers we're going to appeal to the Society for the Prevention of Superfluous Horn Blowing, or something.

Roger Kneff has a new playing thing in the form of a target rifle with telescope attached, and there has been so much shooting going on that all of the Conservation men are getting gray hair and "bush eyes" from peeking through the brush. Roger has told us some hair-raising tales of his prowess with a rifle in the past, so for Gawd's sake, look out now.

We were much pleased Monday afternoon when Mrs. Bates, Mrs. Barnett, Mrs. Larson and Mrs. Michelson dropped in to exchange greetings. They were enroute to the Barnett cabin where an afternoon tea was in prospect, and judging by the hampers of food in their car, the prospects were good. While we are fond of our tea, we think we'll wait until Mrs. Barnett serves roast duck.

We were all very sorry to learn of the misfortune that overtook Mrs. W. G. Payson last week when she fell and sustained severe injuries to her hip. Plans were already laid for their departure to Florida, but the accident will delay them somewhat, although the doctors say that she will not be laid up long. Here's hoping for the best of luck anyway.

Will some kind-hearted neighbor please bite a dog this week?

Moral Courage Is Key to Character

Chicago, Ill.—The call to moral courage in rebuilding the American dream is the one note to be found in all Gov. Alf M. Landon's addresses and acts, Philip Kinsley writes in the Chicago Tribune.

Mr. Kinsley takes as characteristic of Governor Landon his utterance before a convocation of ministers at Topeka in January, 1933: "In the recent past we worshipped false gods and neglected too much the true and living God, whose precepts have guided mankind through the centuries."

Mr. Kinsley also quotes from an address by the governor in 1935: "For some time—several years in fact—I have been of the opinion that we will not have a real, solid, genuine recovery in this country until we have a moral recovery. And by moral recovery I mean character, integrity, upright honesty and square dealing. There is an old-fashioned phrase that I remember my father and mother using, as a boy. It is somewhat out of date these days, but describes what I mean. It is: 'He is a man of principle.'"

2,000 Cheer Copeland's Defense of Constitution

New York City.—Senator Royal S. Copeland, Democrat, who refused to attend the party's national convention, was roundly cheered by a crowd of 2,000 at a patriotic gathering here when he warned against over-centralization of the federal government, defended state sovereignty and urged that the letter and spirit of the Constitution be upheld.

"What would be the attitude of the people today if one in authority presumed to repeat the acts performed by that despot of the Eighteenth century, George III?" he asked.

"Would we have the spirit to say, as did the authors of the Declaration: 'A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people?'"

what Irvin Cobb thinks about:

Camels and Communists.

FLAGSTAFF, ARIZ. — There's nothing new about the fable. The only novelty is in the moral.

One night a camel came and begged to be allowed to poke his cold nose inside an Arab's tent.

So the Arab, being a good-hearted Arab, says yes. Pretty soon the camel claimed his ears were chilly and could he shove in as far as his ears?

And the Arab said that was O. K.

Next the camel got permission to put his neck in out of the weather, and, after that, his forelegs and then his front hump, closely followed by his rear hump, and finally his hindquarters.

When morning came the camel was inside the tent, completely filling it, and the Arab had been crowded outside and there he was—poor shivering wretch, as homeless as a ha'nt.

Moral—Every time I hear of an imported Communist smuggling himself into our midst, I think of a cold-nosed camel.

Holding the Bag.

UP TO now our government has declined all invitations to jump into the Italian-German-French-Russian-British snarl, but watch for an effort to induce America to join in when the time comes for dividing up control over poor old Spain's ports, islands and remaining colonial possessions.

Not that we'd want anything out of the grab-bag and not that they'd give us anything. They'd merely expect us to hold the bag afterwards, which would make two bags in all—this little new one and the big one we've been holding ever since 1918.

Travelers' Homecoming.

CALIFORNIA travel bureaus report an increase of incoming tourists. But then again, on the other hand, part of it may be due to returning residents who went hurriedly away when the papers started printing a certain romantic diary. If your sins do not always find you out, at least they frequently find you getting out.

It's all over now and peace and quiet have been restored to our home circles, but at the height of the rush one involuntarily was reminded of the ancient story of the Frenchman who let with his friend he could prove every man, however outwardly pure, had a dreaded secret in his life. So, to test it, he sent to each of the ten most respected notables in Paris an anonymous telegram reading as follows: "All is discovered. Flee at once." And next morning nine of them were gone and the tenth had committed suicide.

"Backward" British Justice.

ENGLISH news-reel producers have been fined $10,000 — and that's important money in any language — for tiling a film, "An Attempt on the King's Life."

Mind you, they weren't punished for any injury this title might do his majesty. Incredible though it sounds to us, the charge was: "Contempt of court for prejudicing the case against McMahon (the man who tried to shoot King Edward) before he was brought to trial."

For contrast, take a not altogether forgotten criminal case.

Possibly you may remember a certain murderer's trial and what sort of publicity went before it, and what actually occurred whilst 'twas being held, and what the aftermath has been, with attorneys and key-witnesses and—yes—actually some of the jurors peddling their private views for public consumption; and the governor of a great state displaying curious and violent activities, even when the verdict had been called a fair one by the high courts?

Backward race, these Britishers, trying people by the evidence and not by the newspapers and the moving-picture cameras.

A Gentleman's Dinner.

BACK EAST, a distinguished continental chef rises up to outline the American gentleman's ideal dinner. He names eight courses, which is too many, and no domestic flavor about any part of it.

In rebuttal, I crave to offer a menu of all native products.

First, Lynnhaven oysters on the half shell, with western celery and ripe olives.

Second, terrapin stew.

Third, rice-fed canvasback duck, with lye hominy and a baked wine-sap apple.

Fourth, one very small slice of hickory-and-sassafras-cured razor-back ham with watercress salad, soured in a plain oil and vinegar dressing.

Fifth, toasted southern beaten biscuit and a mere morsel of old-fashioned country rat cheese—preferably from Herkimer county, New York.

ORANGE TO APPLE

THIS appears to be an impromptu trick. The magician picks an orange from a bowl of fruit and drops it in an empty hat. He reaches into the hat, once or twice, as though to remove the orange.

When he does so, the fruit is an orange no longer. It has changed to an apple and the hat is shown empty.

The fruit is camouflaged to begin with. Peel an orange and apply the peels to the surface of an apple. Lay the imitation orange in a bowl of fruit and it will seem quite genuine when you pretend to choose it at random.

Drop the "orange" in the hat, start to take it out and then change your mind. This enables you to draw off the peels and tuck them under the band of the hat. That done, you can finally bring the apple into sight.

She says that the house itself is quite large and surrounded with a huge lawn fenced in heavily with fences and shrubbery and with a cement wall separating the rear of the property from the front. She says she saw the tree under which the gangsters used to hold their conferences and was in the secret chamber in which they used to hide in times of danger. The basement contains a bar room and the original arsenal, equipped just as it was formerly. Mrs. Sales says it is very interesting. She also visited the Ford Rotunda in Detroit while on her vacation.

Irvin S. Cobb thinks about:

Presidential Straw Votes.
BOHEMIAN GROVE, CALIF.—Every baby, as I've always heard, is born with a soft spot in its head, and once in a while there's one who never gets over it, but grows up and, in presidential years, goes around taking straw votes on railroad trains in order to find out which ticket will be elected.

He is a kindred spirit to the other fellow, who, to settle the whole issue right now and avoid crowding at the polls in November, offers to bet you a cool thousand that his man beats your man, and then, before leaving, tries to borrow five dollars from somebody so he can get his laundry out of hock.

Having met both types within the ten days before coming here and being fearful that both species is going to multiply rapidly during the ensuing three months, I'm thinking seriously of taking the veil until after the campaign ends. Politics certainly does breed its ticks.

The Little Red School House.
YES, in my early days we also had the little red schoolhouse. Maybe the reason we liked it then was that it got its red tone from the paint on the outside and not from the teaching staff on the inside.

Likewise, in those unprogressive times, we thought the youth of the land should be taught to cherish the American flag for something besides private hissing purposes. Hopefully old fashioned, eh, what?

The Dictator Business.
IT LOOKS as though, when the battle dust lifts from that distracted country, Spain will have a dictator, dictators being fashionable.

It seems to be comparatively easy to make a success of it, too. Just follow a formula: Make it a blasphemous violation of the first commandment for anyone to assign you second place.

Be sure all sentences personally uttered begin with the capital letter "I" and end with the pronoun "me."

Convince yourself that, in order ever to behold any human being who is your equal in moral and mental stature, you must carry about with you a full-length mirror.

Never permit yourself to be photographed in your nightshirt, but always in full uniform. On arising, lock the jaws and clench the fists and leave 'em that way all day.

And this is very important—have a dependable police force and somebody to pick on, preferably somebody without any friends.

Political Claim-Alls.
SHRINKING JEEMS FARLEY announces the Democrats will carry every division of the Union, although privately he is said to be a little bit doubtful of two very backward counties in Vermont. While generously conceding the central part of Mississippi and the western end of Kentucky to the enemy, diffident John Hamilton is sure the Republicans will sweep everything else.

Congressman Lemke, most modest of the claimers, is certain he'll win in 40 states. Really, he doesn't need that many, but 40's a nice even number. If the shy Dr. Townsend also should run, he counts on 20,000,000 votes in this country, besides clean-cut majorities in Sweden, New South Wales and the Island of Yap.

Oxen Versus Onions.
WITH no aim to set up as a specialist in human behavior, I think I've stumbled on a significant, timely discovery. I found in a scientific work this statement:

"Each living growth has to begin in a single-microscopic cell. Moreover, every future thing of either animal or vegetable kingdom contains in that first cell a fixed number of even more infinitesimal bodies called chromosomes. In the ox, the guinea pig, the man and the onion, the number is the same invariably."

I contend this natural kinship in classification may explain why, in campaign years, some of us are bellowing oxen, some are docile guinea pigs and most of the rest of us are just plain onions.

BANANAS Give More Food
The banana gives more food per acre than any other plant, more calories per pound than any other fresh fruit and, in some large species, produces more food per single fruit than any other member of the vegetable kingdom, says Collier's Weekly. Huge bananas grown in East Africa and Ceylon-China are two feet long, as thick as a man's arm and contain sufficient food to make an adequate meal for three men.

Salt leads as the mineral product of Michigan's lower peninsula. This state leads in the production of salt, with New York a close second.

At Alabaster, Michigan, there is a sufficient supply of gypsum to furnish the entire country with plaster for the next two centuries.

The largest firm of manufacturing chemists in the world is located at Detroit.

Michigan resort centers are now seeking to adapt their natural resources to the attraction of winter resorters as well as summer visitors. Skiing, tobogganing, skating and other sports will be offered on the entertainment menu.

Among the Clerks

(By J. Wellington Bumsted)

Eva Swanson has just reached a conclusion in keeping with all the rest of us—she now feels pretty sure that Biddie Bishaw's nurse must have dropped him on a cement walk when he was a mere infant.

If you've noticed Marthy Sorenson, of Plaza Grill fame, looking about dejectedly, don't be alarmed—she just dislocated a bone in her ankle—probably while doing one of her famous dance steps before an admiring public.

Another interesting social event which is looming in the near future, will be the marriage of one of our handsome young waitresses to Lieut. Jones, of Camp AuSable notoriety. I'm just wondering if George Stanley won't be given the task of ring bearer.

With Fall just around the corner, some of our young people are taking advantage of these balmy days to make one of those popular down-river canoe trips. Sunday, Rudy Harrison and Leonard Marshall, accompanied by two very charming young ladies, paddled down the world famous AuSable by sunlight; returning by moonlight to report a very fine trip and no tip-overs.

"Car ferry" Jake Mathews, who has returned to his home in Frankfort, has willed the remnants of a most interesting affair to his stooges—Lee Perrigo and Lullabelle B.

Thank You

As a working girl I was unable to make an active campaign for the nomination of Treasurer. When one considers the fact that I did not personally ask a single person to vote for me, the large vote given me is truly remarkable. I feel pardonable pride in the splendid support given me and consider it highly complimentary—a true token of confidence and respect from the voters of Crawford county.

I congratulate Mr. Ferguson on his success.

Helene Babbitt.

APPRECIATION

Although I lost the nomination for County Clerk in the Primary Election Tuesday, I most sincerely thank those who voted for me. I feel no ill will to those in outlying districts where I lost my votes as I am not known so well there.

Alvin LaChappelle.

Notice

On several visits to my husband's grave in Elmwood cemetery during the summer I have found potted plants and flowers, that had been placed there by whom I do not know. However having a large family of relatives, I decided each time that some of them had visited the grave and placed them there. But Wednesday evening of last week, to my consternation, there were 19 potted plants on the grave.

On mentioning it to a relative they informed me that there had been an item in the Avalanche telling of parties missing flowers at the cemetery, so the purpose of this article is to let the public know that neither I nor any of my family are responsible for the taking of these flowers. I am of the opinion some child must be doing this and I trust that the practice will stop at once.

Mrs. Burwell Griffith.

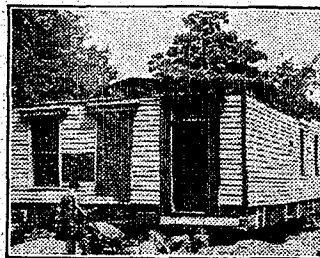

More Time Needed
"What we need," said Uncle Eben, "is more time for argument dat can't be interrupted by a machine gun."

Pony Entrant

Little Walter Rix, 7, of 1143 West Six Mile Rd., Detroit, is the first to enter a pet in the Michigan State Fair pet show. He brought his pony, Ginger, to the Fair Grounds and said he would enter his pet if Ginger were given grazing privileges on the Fair Grounds. The request was granted. Ginger is here shown taking a lump of sugar from Miss Virginia Lyon. The Fair will be held this year Sept. 4 to 13 inclusive.

Where Grant Lived

This is the house in which President U. S. Grant lived when he was an obscure army lieutenant stationed in Detroit. The house was recently moved from Fort street to the Detroit Fair Grounds where it will be open to visitors to the Michigan State Fair, Sept. 4 to 13. Workmen are shown restoring the house to its condition when Grant lived in it. The house will be stocked with Grant relics.

Sugar Originated in China
Sugar cane was grown in China as far back as the Seventh century. Plants were carried from there to Sicily in 1488. Plants reached Madeira in 1499 and the Canary Islands in 1503. Plants were carried to the West Indies in 1510, and did not reach outlying Barbados until 1641. Sugar cane was first grown in the United States in 1781. The plantation was located near New Orleans.
